

City Light Contract—Electrical Current—Notice to Bidders.

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Miss., until Saturday, December 4, 1920, at 5 o'clock P. M., for furnishing electrical current for lighting and other purposes throughout the city of Bay St. Louis with not less than one hundred (100) volts during day and night.

To furnish any number of lights that may be required by the City of Bay St. Louis, Miss., as shall be directed from time to time by Board of Mayor and Aldermen, for forty-two (42) candle power 40-watts Tungston or superior lamps; for sixty (60) candle power 75-watts Tungston or superior lamps; said lights to be lit from dark to daylight, the bidder to furnish globes, material and all other appliances necessary for said lights. Bids specifying deductions or allowances when lights shall be out or not lighted, for any cause, will be rejected.

To light up the city of Bay St. Louis within the limits as now lighted, which is as follows:

Beginning at the boundary line of the City of Bay St. Louis and the town of Waveland, Mississippi, and extending on the front northerly to Duquane avenue.

On Julia street from Front street to Dunbar avenue.

On Leonard avenue from Front street to Dunbar avenue.

On Uman avenue from Front street to Luzzana property.

On Carroll avenue from Front street to Dunbar avenue.

On St. George street from Second to Toume street.

On State street from Second to Toume street.

On Main street from Front street to St. Francis street.

On Union street, the entire length.

On Booker street, the entire length.

On Keller street, the entire length.

On Goodchildren street, the entire length.

On Washington street, the entire length.

On Citizen street, the entire length.

On Ballantine street, the entire length.

On St. Charles street, from Front street to Railroad Avenue.

On St. John street, from Toume street to St. Francis street.

On Easterbrook street, from Toume street to St. Francis street.

And on all streets and alleys that may not be mentioned above, and which is now lighted, but is that the city be lighted to the same limits and boundary as now lighted with not less than one hundred and sixty street lights, with prices and rates for new lights where extensions are needed in the line as now established.

To furnish electrical current of 100 volts or more to all persons desiring same along the line of wires as installed for street lights within the limits above described at a meter maximum rate, flat maximum rate, or a combination rate of both.

To furnish electrical current at the prices and rates bid to the city of Bay St. Louis as above set out for the street lights and to the people within the city as above set out for a period of ten years from January 1st, 1921, and bids will also be received for said electrical current for a period of five years from January 1, 1921.

To furnish lights for city hall for all lights as now installed and for lighting the town block with three lights forty candle power Tungston or superior lamp, the same as will be used for street lights.

The party whose bid is accepted furnish a good and valid bond for the faithful performance of the contract entered into in the sum of three thousand dollars.

The city reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Sylvan J. Ladner, Sec'y.

A FEW OF THE SPECIALS FROM THE BAY MERCANTILE CO.

Men's good Socks, 15 cents pair.

Arrow Collars, 15, 20 and 25 cents.

150-yard Spool Cotton, 2 for 15c.

Sterno canned meat, 10 cents can.

Brass Curtain Poles, 15 cents each.

Stero Foam and Brush, 35 cents.

O-Cedar Polish, 60-c size, 50c bottle.

O-Cedar Polish, 30-c size, 25c bottle.

$5.00 Gillette Razors for $4.49.

Tumblers, per dozen, 60 cents.

Tumblers, per dozen, 75 cents.

Large White Platters, each, 60 cents.

Nitro Club Shells, per box $1.20.

New Club Shells, per box, 95 cents.

Large Aluminum Sippers, 25 cents.

Large Coal Hods, 75 cents.

$12.50 Felt Mattress, $10.50.

$6.00 Blankets, $4.99.

Extra Good Yellow Cotton 20 and 25 cents yard.

Extra Good Bleached Cotton 25 and 30 cents yard.

Fine White Cambric, 30 cents yard.

Fancy Flannellette, 25 and 30 cents yard.

45-c Dress Gingham, 50 cents.

Good Gingham, 35 cents yard.

Do not fail to see the line of Gingham and Flannellette, also Men's Dress Goods, at the Bay Mercantile Co.

SPANISH TRAIL HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER VISITS BAY ST. LOUIS

Harrah B. Ayres, Managing Director of the Old Spanish Trail, visited Bay St. Louis, on a trip conferring with Highway Leaders.

PLEASANT WITH BAY ST. LOUIS FERRY AS A LINK OF THE Great Highway Project Connecting the West With the East, as determined by Mayor Webb and Committee While on Local Visit.

Harrah B. Ayres, managing director of the Old Spanish Trail, was in Bay St. Louis a few days ago on his way back to San Antonio, Texas.

He was met by Mayor R. W. Webb, City Attorney R. L. Genin and a committee of other representative citizens. Mr. Ayres was conferring with leaders in this great highway project movement in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama on his trip.

"We are arranging," he said, "to put our best field secretary in this section at once to build up all the interests of the highway. We have been swamped with work. If it is just a matter with us of just marking a route and encouraging roadbuilding, as with most of these highway movements, it would not be so hard. But this Old Spanish Trail is arousing an interest in the old historical associations. From all over the land come calls for information, for photographs or some illustrated booklet. We have spent a year digging out the old history of old Spanish days. Magazine writers are now calling for data and photos."

While he was working out the problem of highway and bridge building, field secretaries have been trained to work out for all communities the old history story and weave it into a log-book so that travelers may be guided and instructed as they travel along. These log-books will go all over the land and will be a big help to the traveler by the thousands. They must also work out the route marking, and also the signing of old landmarks, and arranging for campsites wherever possible, also a landing field, and sign all these. They will appoint county directors, and also local consultants. The plan is to have general oversight of all interests in his county. The local consultants will be representative men and women to whom travelers may turn for information and courtesies while in the city. All this will be listed in the log book. It will be a complete tourist guide ever issued, and the Mississippi Gulf Coast will come in for considerable space.

"These field secretaries will be in a sense a personal secretary for every community," replied Mr. Ayres to a query from Mayor Webb, "for they must study the community interest so that travelers will get every interesting thing out of the community when they reach it."

They must photograph everything worth while. We are today unable to supply the demand for historical photos for feature and magazine articles. They must work out pictorial studies for the Old Spanish Trail Magazine. We shall publish this probably probably every two months. The next issue will be the Old Louisiana Number. This magazine has already been made a text for teaching in the public schools of one big city. The Geographic Magazine pictures the human story of the whole world. The Old Spanish Trail Magazine will picture the old and the new story of this Spanish borderland. All ready we are moving away from a mere highway project, and becoming a historical association with a national-wide membership devoted to bringing back into life all this old history and offering it to the travelers of the world. The present single-line highway laid down across the country is only the main artery. Roads will break from this main line into all historical sections of the southern borderland. People who come South in winter have all winter to play about."

The field secretary assigned to Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama has traveled the highways of the United States 90,000 miles in automobile. He has been over the noted highways of the North and the South kind of work North because of the fascination working out the historical interests of the Old Spanish Trail.

The Old Spanish Trail reaches from St. Augustine, Fla., to Los Angeles, California. It commands all the Southern resort territory.

Mr. Ayres said to The Echo he was pleased with conditions in Mississippi. The chief problem he mentioned in this section was Mobile Bay with an apology for a ferry and the local ferry and expressed great satisfaction at what he saw and complimented the people here.

He departed for New Orleans the same afternoon of the day of his visit, promising to soon return.

W. D. Robinson, representing the New Orleans Times-Picayune, "The Onions Newspaper South," was a visitor to Bay St. Louis during his visit in the interest of the highway project.

KILLEEN-SPORI.

In the presence of a large gathering of friends and acquaintances and members of the family of both contracting parties, the wedding of Miss Laura Louise Spori, daughter of Mrs. Louise Spori, of Bay St. Louis, to Mr. Joseph Laurence Killeen, son of Mr. Joseph Killeen and Mrs. Thos. Killeen, of New Orleans, was celebrated at the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, Wednesday evening, October 27, 1920, at 5 o'clock.

The ceremony, simple in its beauty and solemn in its meaning, was performed by the pastor, Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, with the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elsie Spori, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Misses Rosalie Killeen, the church rail, before the high altar. Roses and lighted tapers adorned the three altars, and every light within the edifice lent their effulgent glow to the entire nuptial scene. Tall, graceful palms in pots embowered the picture of the ceremony.

The wedding party entered to the music of the march from Lohengrin, performed by Prof. Joseph Hemmrich, organist. The party was led by the ushers, Messrs. Walter J. Spori, a brother of the bride, and George Harrison, and following were the groomsmen, Mr. S. S. Black, Dr. E. Faust and Mr. Phil Leonard. The best man was Mr. Andrew O'Donald.

I SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Finally was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lowell, Mass.—"I was all run down and had an awful pain in my right side, as if I was being pierced by a hot iron, and I suffered for three years and was perfectly miserable until a friend of mine told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it a wonderful medicine. I can now do twice as much work as I could before."

Why women will continue to suffer so long is more than we can understand, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Life's Merry-Go-Round.

You may not know it, but when you are laughing at a man behind his back, some other man is behind your back laughing at you.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

USE "DIAMOND DYES"

Dye right! Don't risk your material in a poor dye. Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple that any woman can diamond-dye a new, rich, fadeless color into old garments, draperies, coverings, everything, whether wool, silk, linen, cotton or mixed goods.

Buy "Diamond Dyes" no other kind—then perfect results are guaranteed. Druggists have "Diamond Dyes Color Card"—16 rich colors. Adv.

Life's Little Changes.

A—You're acquainted with Mr. Smith? What kind of a man is he?

B—He used to be poor, but honest.

A—And now?

B—Now he's rich.

Granulated Eyelids, Sties, Inflamed Eyes relieved overnight by Roman Eye Balm. One trial proves its merit.—Adv.

In union there is strength—as many a married man has learned to his sorrow.

Even after slates were invented people continued to multiply on the face of the earth.

Why That Lame Back?

Morning lameness, sharp twinges when bending and an all day backache, each in cause enough to suggest kidney complaint. If you feel tired all the time and are annoyed by dizzy spells, headaches and irregular kidney action, you have additional proof and should seek quickly to prevent more serious kidney trouble. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that is recommended everywhere by grateful users. Ask your neighbor!

An Alabama Case

G. T. Gorman, 2210 1/2 St., Marion, Ala., says: "I had pains across the small of my back. At times my back was so lame and sore I could hardly bend over and upon straightening sharp pains would go through my kidneys and body. I have heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that I decided to try them. They entirely cured me."

Get Doan's at Any Store 50c a Box. DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

BEWARE!

That case of malaria may become chronic. Many people think they are free from it, and attribute their low state of health to various other reasons. This chronic malaria is a disease that is often overlooked. It is an excellent tonic, and will make your system strong enough to resist any further attack from this dreadful disease.

The Bohanna Drug Co., West, Texas.

Forbes Phonographs and Player Pianos

are built of finest materials and by best skilled workmen and are fully guaranteed.

We will give $10 worth of Columbia records with the first Phonograph or Player Piano purchased.

OUR FEATURE SECTION

Department Devoted to Attractive Magazine Material

Rann-dom Reels

By HOWARD L. RANN

THE ELECTRIC BELT

THE electric belt is a substitute for the mustard plaster and can be removed without taking any of the patient with it.

From the earliest days of this republic the mustard plaster has been relied upon to extract shooting pains from the interior of man's anatomy. It was always applied by some faithful wife who mixed the plaster with her own hands, in order that there might be plenty of mustard therein, and all that a suffering husband had to do was allow the plaster to sit down on his stomach and draw the electric belt than it is to make percolator coffee when everything is perking right. The belt is strung carefully about the waist of the patient and one end is attached to an electric meter, which keeps a careful record of the current consumed and turns it into the head office at the end of the month. As soon as the meter begins to turn over and discharge kilowatts at the patient, a warm, restful feeling appears which increases in intensity until the patient glances at the meter.

When an electric belt is properly applied a sick person can turn over on his face and go to sleep without fear of having his backbone reduced to ashes. This cannot be said of the mustard plaster, which never knows when to stop its triumphant progress and is liable to cremate a sleepy patient right in the presence of his wife and children. The electric belt can be set so that it will operate at one mile per hour on high, but by a providential arrangement the speed of the meter is not affected.

(Copyright) 1924

One End Is Attached to an Electric Meter.

pain to the surface. It is an uncanny sensation to have a stout mustard plaster with long teeth grasp hold of a vital organ and maul it into a state of helpless submission, and many a patient has preferred to die with his cuticle intact rather than pass through such an ordeal.

The electric belt, however, has forever done away with the mustard plaster and its murderous instincts. It is no more trouble to wear an elec-

TUBERCULOSIS

TUBERCULOSIS is caused by a living germ in the lungs. The body of a healthy person will resist its growth and may kill the germs, but in a weak body and without proper care the germs multiply until the lungs are consumed and the person dies.

These germs are found in the sputum (spit) of a consumptive—in small numbers in the very early stages of the disease, in larger numbers as the disease progresses, and in countless millions in the late stages.

Among the earlier symptoms which one can observe, and which should lead one at once to consult a physician, are: Slight cough, lasting a month or longer; loss of weight; slight fever in the afternoon; night sweats; bleeding from the lungs.

Many persons who have these early symptoms of tuberculosis lose valuable time, and often their only chance of recovery, by relying on the promises of patent medicine fakers and medicine quacks. Don't take patent medicines and don't go to quack doctors who advertise that they cure tuberculosis by some method known only to themselves.

MOTHER'S COOK BOOK by Nellie Maxwell

Innumerable men and women have seen the kettle boil, but it occurred to only one that the force which lifted the lid might be confined and made to do human service. The man finds or makes his opportunities and in turn they help him.

SELECTED GOOD THINGS.

When there is a little popped corn left try this wholesome dessert:

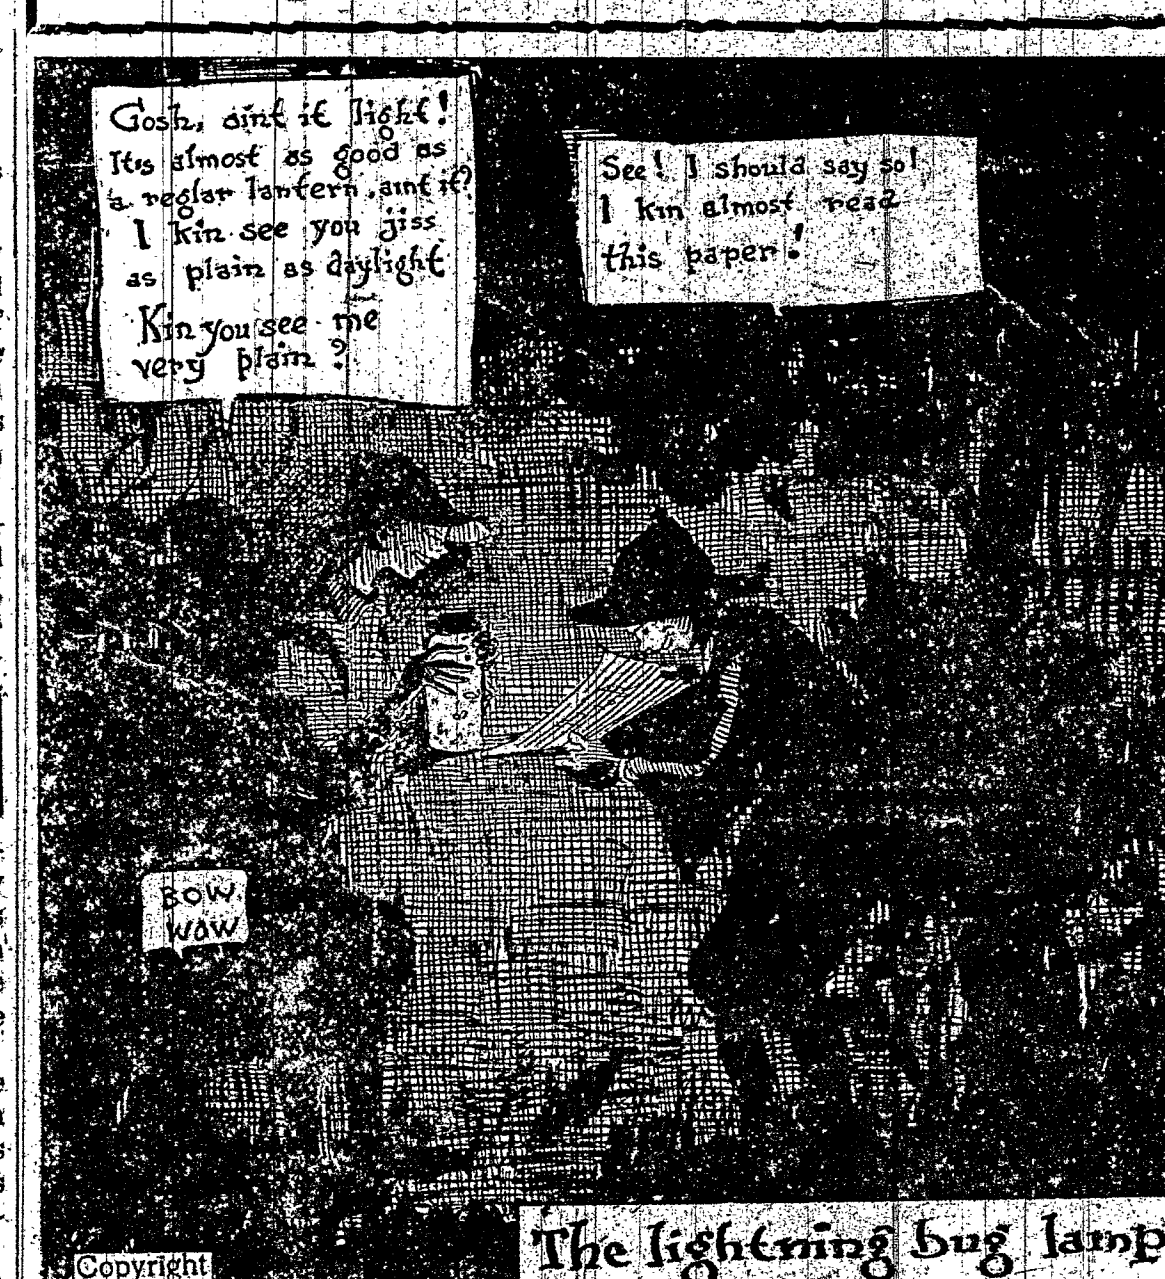

Popped Corn Pudding. Scald three cupsful of milk and pour over two cupsful of popped corn which has been pounded until fine and let stand one hour. Add three eggs slightly beaten, one-half cupful of brown sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt and stir until well mixed. Turn into a well buttered baking dish and bake in a slow oven thirty-five minutes. Serve hot with thin cream or maple syrup.

Peach Whip. Beat the whites of three eggs until stiff, add three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and beat to a glossy meringue. Peel half a dozen peaches and press through a sieve; gradually add this pulp to the meringue, beating all the time and sprinkling in one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Heap in tall glasses and serve at once.

Crisps. Cream one cupful of butter, add gradually two cupsful of sugar, three eggs beaten until light, the grated rind and juice of a lemon and flour to make a mixture to roll. Knead slightly, cut in shapes, brush with white of egg, sprinkle with coarse granulated sugar and chopped nuts. Bake a light brown.

Baked Peas. A delicious way of serving peas is to cut them in halves, core them, place in a baking pan with a generous sprinkling of sugar and half an onion, and bake in a moderate oven.

SCHOOL DAYS

Copyright 1924 The lightning bug lamp

recovery, by relying on the promises of patent medicine fakers and medicine quacks. Don't take patent medicines and don't go to quack doctors who advertise that they cure tuberculosis by some method known only to themselves.

Last Night's Dreams - What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM OF ACTORS?

SOMETIMES in our excursions into Dreamland we and ourselves in the company of actors or actresses, or both, not seeing them play but conversing with them. This the mystics regard as a very favorable omen; one which foretells success in whatever enterprise you have set your heart on. But if you dream that you, yourself, are an actor or actress, much hard work and many obstacles are before you; all of which obstacles, however, you will overcome by persistent effort. Women are advised not to dream that they are to marry an actor for if they do their pet ambition will not be realized.

As to how a man should treat an actress whom he meets in the realm of dreams the mystics are not agreed. Some say that if you dream that you make love to an actress, all your future life will be joyful, while others declare that for a single man to dream this signifies that he is going to have a "lover's quarrel" with his sweetheart and for a married man that he is in for a row with his wife. Accepting the latter interpretation dream life and actual life would seem in this respect to be closely akin.

Freud's dictum that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an infantile one. He says: "It may seem that the conscious wish alone has been realized in the dream, but a slight peculiarity in the formation of the dream will put us on the track of the powerful helper from the unconscious." His theory is that all infantile wishes are indestructible in the "unconscious"; always active and ready for expression whenever they find an opportunity to unite themselves with an emotion from conscious life, and they transfer their greater intensity to the lesser intensity of this latter, that in every dream some indestructible infantile wish is being fulfilled.

Freud's theory is that every dream is the fulfillment of a wish is easy enough to accept with regard to this dream; for all of us have, at some time, wished to meet actors and actresses and converse with them. But it is not so easy to follow him in his theory that this conscious wish of the day would not have excited the dream had it not met with an unconscious wish which reinforced it, and that unconscious wish an

A Letter of General Interest and the Reply.

The following correspondence is of vital interest to every telephone user, present and prospective:

New Orleans, La., October 12, 1920.

Mr. J. Epps Brown, President,
Bell Telephone Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:

I have read the advertisement of your Company, but I do not understand why you must raise your rates now, when the prices of everything else is falling.

Will you please explain this?

Yours truly,

Atlanta, Ga., October 16, 1920.

Mr. J. Epps Brown,

New Orleans, La.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of October 12th asks a very natural question, and one which demands a full and frank reply, which I am glad to make.

While the prices of a great many things have apparently been reduced these reductions in prices do not apply to articles used by the telephone company, or affect the expenditure necessary in the construction, maintenance and operation of the telephone plant.

The following classes of expenses constitute more than ninety-five per cent of the cost of furnishing telephone service.

LABOR.

More than fifty per cent of the total expenditures of the Company in rendering service are for wages and salaries; less than one-tenth of one per cent of this being for executive and general salaries.

The wages paid to our employees cannot, and should not, be reduced. On the contrary they must be increased in many cases, to bring our wages to a level with wages paid by unregulated businesses, so that we may retain our skilled employees necessary to give you efficient service.

MATERIAL AND APPARATUS.

Many items of material and apparatus are involved in the current maintenance of the property, entirely apart from the enormous quantities involved in the construction of new property, and this represents a large item of expense. There has been no reduction, nor any indication of reduction, in the price of these essential articles, in practically all of which the labor, freight and

ing cost is by far the largest proportion of the total cost.

We know that the manufacturers of telephone equipment and material have orders booked for two years in advance, with a constantly increasing demand, and which in turn makes a reduction in price in the near future

most impossible.

FREIGHT AND PASSENGER COSTS.

Our annual expense for the transportation of freight and passengers is more than one million dollars. No one expects the railroads to reduce their charges under the level of costs in rendering their service.

RENT.

Except in the larger centers our central offices and stocks of material are housed in rented buildings, and even in the larger centers we rent varying amounts of properties.

Like every one else, our rents have been greatly increased, with no prospect of any reduction. Even in pre-war days all leases for property occupied by us were renewed only at a higher charge than for the previous rental period.

HOTELS.

The board and lodging bill for our men, who must travel in connection with the operation and maintenance of the property, costs many thousands of dollars

every year, and we can see no prospect of the hotels lowering their charges. Until they do we must pay the present high charges.

ELECTRIC POWER AND LIGHT— STREET CAR FARE

We spend many thousands of dollars every year for these services rendered to employees engaged in the maintenance of the property. In the majority of cases the rates charged by these companies have been substantially increased, and there is no thought of any reduction. The Telephone Company, like all others, must pay these increased rates.

PAPER, PRINTING AND STATIONERY.

We consume tons of paper for bookkeeping, correspondence and directory purposes, and pay many thousands of dollars for printing annually. This item of expense has increased in percentage more than the others, and no one has suggested that any reduction in these costs is probable.

COAL BILL.

The Telephone Company purchases coal in large quantities to heat the buildings occupied by its employees in rendering the service.

We, of course, must pay whatever price is necessary to secure the coal for this purpose.

INSURANCE.

Even where the actual rate per one thousand dollars has not been increased, we are compelled to carry a large amount of insurance than in the war days in order to protect ourselves in the reproduction of any of the property which may be destroyed by fire, and this is reflected in a very large increase in the total insurance bill.

TAXES.

This expense, both Federal, State, County and City, has increased every year we have been in business; the increased this year being unusually high. There is no probability of this expense being reduced.

We don't pay any excess profit tax because we have never earned enough to be subject to that tax.

BUILDINGS.

It is common knowledge that the cost of erecting any kind of building now, as well as making alterations and repairs, which constantly confront the Telephone Company and which involve material, labor, freight, and hauling, is on an enormously higher plane than ever before. Insofar as the cost of materials may be reduced will this total cost be reduced.

The only way we can furnish adequate facilities for your use from year to year is by constructing the buildings in which to house the central office apparatus in the larger centers; as well as enlarging existing buildings to serve the increased needs, and this work must be carried on from year to year without delay. This involves hundreds of thousands of dollars in expense to the Company.

There are of course, many other items of expense

all of which are now at the highest level in prices, and none of which show any sign of reduction for fundamental reasons.

Until these necessary costs of operation are materially reduced we cannot reduce the COSTS of furnishing telephone service.

We have carefully studied and analyzed the advertised reduction in prices and find that they are upon articles of which we make but little, if any, use. Applied to the telephone business all known reductions in prices would not reduce the cost of furnishing telephone service one-twentieth of one per cent.

This is many times offset by the increase in wages in many places, we must make during the current year.

Our present operating revenues are practically equalized by our operating expenses. If the present let down in general business continue for any appreciable time we will lose a material part of the gross revenue now received which will make a higher rate necessary if a deficit is avoided.

We are not asking higher rates for the SAME SER-

VICE we furnished one, two or five years ago; but for a

MUCH GREATER SERVICE which we now furnish, consisting of facilities to add many additional telephones to our system during the past one, two and five years.

This fact should be considered when comparing the increase in rates we ask with the increase in the charges of railroad, express and other public utilities of the same quality of service.

We hope, as everyone does, that in the relatively near future prices and the costs of operation, except labor, will be lower, but we see no immediate prospects of this result as far as the Telephone Company is concerned.

The increased rates we are now asking are based,

in a measure, upon this hope. If the present level of cost of operation go higher, through causes beyond our control, the proposed rates will not yield a fair profit.

It is important to remember that no rate for a public utility is permanent. If conditions and prices so change in the future as to make the rates we are now asking yield too high a return, and if the Telephone Company should not reduce the rates voluntarily, the Public Service Commission would.

Conditions as they are must be met, not as they may or should be.

The highest and best interest of the public is conserved in having the Telephone Company in position to supply facilities adequate to the demand for telephones and service, and in this way be prepared to render at all times an adequate service. No community can expand and grow without adequate telephone service, which in turn means adequate plant facilities.

With inadequate returns upon the bare cost of the physical property already in service—the Company's credit has disappeared.

With no credit the Company cannot secure the millions of dollars required to provide the additions an extensions of its plant, which must be provided if the public demand for telephones is supplied.

Respectfully yours,

J. EPPS BROWN, President.

CHURCH FAIR NETS HANDSOME SUM AT EDWARDSVILLE.

Over Three Hundred and Fifty Dollars for the Fair, netted from the element Weather No Bar
To Attendance.

AWARDING OF PRIZES ELICIT-ED MUCH INTEREST.

Ladies Who Were Active and Made
the Fair Successful—Miss Elsie Spurl Sold Most
Tickets, Won Miss
Curtis Second.

On last Sunday afternoon a great galaxy of people gathered at Edwardsville on the occasion of the fair that was given for the benefit of the little church that quietly nestles in the sequestered and romantic neighborhood. Amid a scene of sylvan beauty and shimmering glades, the spreading oaks draped with straying lichen and hanging moss mark an ideal spot, and here under an arbor was seated a gala day was long and pleasantly anticipated, but
"Far on the deep there are billows, That shall never break on the beach," so the pent-up hopes of an out-door festival were shattered when Jupiter mercilessly showered down a deluge of rain that rendered imperative the seeking for shelter in a vacant homestead. But weather conditions did not daunt the morale of the ladies who for several days worked energetically to make the fair an unprecedented success. Quickly they selected tactical positions inside and soon were entrenched behind the tables on which was displayed ambrosial
"spread" that would tickle the asthetics of the gods.

Coffee and doughnuts were prepared and served under the combined management of Misses Lottie Cu-neo, Agnes Shannon, Isabel Desimone and Mrs. Benjamin. The cake and candy table was in charge of Mrs. Sigerson, Miss Elsie Mauffray and Misses L. Eagan, Mrs. Frank Hymel, Mrs. Blanche Payne and which table was worked by Miss Ida Edwards, Mrs. K. Connor, supported by the kind volunteer assistance of Mrs. R. W. Webb and Mrs. G. E.
Temple. The ice cream was served by Mrs. L. Eagan, Mrs. Frank Hymel, Mrs. Blanche Payne and nearly quite an amusing treat for the children.

The entire catering was splendid.
When the hot coffee struck his middle and registered a brace, some one had a slight perturbation regarding the days when the exhilarating beverage came to the rescue as fate was delivering a knock-out. When Tennyson wrote "A sorrow's crown of sorrow is remembering happier days," he must be gazing down the vista of time and dreaming the days of "not a drop to drink." So wonderfully did his words depict the grief of our friend sighing over "the modest cup that served the God and flushed into wine." If only the old philosopher had been in touch of the "Nirvana" were present at the fair they might discover the object of their search among the spicy eats or the sweet sounds that "musically dripped" from the Macabees Band, songs which we hope lingered on far into the night and were never heard then and verified the poetic words.

"The night shall be filled with music,
And the care that infest the day
Shall gently fold their tents like the Arabs."

And as silently steal away
Towards evening the central item
—the drawing for prizes—was staged before an anxious crowd. In suspense the result was awaited, and when the lucky numbers were called, the crowd disbanded and wended homeward.

The prize for the best ticket seller was taken by Miss Elsie Spurl, who disposed of 150 tickets. Miss Lottie Cuneo, a very active worker for the fair, was only a few laps behind, having 140 stubs to her credit.

The proceeds netted from the fair totalled $350.00 and a margin.

A tribute of praise and many thanks is tendered Miss Pearl Fahy, who was in charge of the fair, and the other ladies, who, by their tireless efforts, made it a brilliant success; also the many people who donated the numerous ticket sellers, the manager and members of the Macabees Band, the W. O. W.
for loaning tables, chairs and general utensils; Messrs. Scudde, Ace-naux and Boudin for the use of their trucks and to each and everyone else who in any way assisted the fair and thus associated themselves with the promotion of a very noble cause.

From Biloxi Herald.

Tom Grayson, distinguished medal soldier and life-long citizen of Biloxi, where he is exceedingly popular, has resigned his position as commandant at the Gulf Coast Military Academy to accept position as cashier with the First Christian Bank. Mr.
Grayson's duties will require his constant presence in that city, where he will reside. He will find frequent occasion to visit Biloxi, and his new associates on the connection just formed. The academy was loth to part with Mr. Grayson, but felt that the opportunity offered by the above bank, which is a very responsible po-

FOR SALE.

The pleasure pier and bath house of the Bay Sea Food Co. Easy terms; a good proposition for a hustler. Inquire A. L. STOKOE.

NOTICE OF SALE OF MUNICIPAL BONDS.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi will receive bids on eighty thousand ($80,000) dollars of its municipal six per cent bonds of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.
The last of the series of said bonds are for a period of twenty years.
Said bonds will be sold at public auction and the highest bidder will be bound to take the same at the price bid and to pay the same in cash.

State of Mississippi,
Hancock County.

I, A. A. Kergosien, clerk of the Board of Supervisors, hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the order of the said Board, passed Tuesday, October 5, 1920, and recorded in Book J, page—, Minute of said Board.

Witness my hand and seal this 5th
(SEAL) day of October, A. D.
1920. A. A. KERGOSIEN, Clerk.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

D. R. J. A. EVANS,

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

Office—

Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Phone—

Residence—

Bay St. Louis, Miss.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS.

State of Mississippi,
Hancock County.

On motion duly seconded and carried, the following was unanimously adopted by the Board of Supervisors at its October, 1920, meeting

—Whereas, it is necessary to borrow money for Hancock County to meet the expenses of schools for the current year, now, therefore, be it resolved it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of said county,

on November 1, 1920, to borrow $20,000.00 for the General

School Fund in anticipation of the taxes for the year 1920 to defray the expenses of said year and to insure the negotiable notes of said county, maturing not later than February 15th, 1921, and bearing not more than 6 per cent interest per annum.

Approved by the Board of Supervisors at its meeting held October 5, 1920.

Attest my hand and seal this 5th day of October, A. D. 1920.

A. A. KERGOSIEN, Clerk.

It's a cinch to figure why Camels sell!

You should know why Camels are so unusual, so refreshing, so satisfying. First, quality—second, Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos which you'll certainly prefer to either kind smoked straight!

Camels blend makes possible that wonderful mellow mildness—yet all the desirable body is there! And, Camels never tire your taste!

You'll appreciate Camels freedom from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor!

For your own satisfaction compare Camels puff by puff with any cigarette in the world at any price!

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes; or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office because it keeps the cigarettes fresh and free from moisture.

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President:
GOV. JAS. M. COX, of Ohio.

For Vice President:
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, of New York.

The next time
you buy calomel
ask for

The purified and refined calomel tablets that are nauseless, safe and sure.
Medicinal virtues retained and improved. Sold only in sealed packages.
Price 35c.

FOR WOMEN

For over half a century DR. TUTT'S LIVER PILLS have been sold for the liver. Read the following from a woman of forty-eight: "I have used DR. TUTT'S PILLS for liver regulation many years. I am now convinced that they are the best known purgative for either male or female functions. I have told many of my friends and now none would be without them. A few days before, and you are all right."

Bad Stomach
Sends Her to Bed
for 10 Months

Eaton's Gets Her Up!

"Over a year ago," says Mrs. Dora Williams, "I took to bed and for 10 months did not think I would live. Eaton's helped me so much I am now up and able to work. I recommend it highly for stomach trouble."

AGENTS!

Your Opportunity!
Act Quickly!
Sole Ventilate Shade Regulator for use with every window shade. Only $1.50 per shade. Sell for 25c daily. High class agents wanted in every community. Send $2.00 for money order, for sample literature and complete details. Agents for 100 cities secured exclusive agency in any town up to $500.00. Other cities according to size. Act now.

Ventilate Shade Regulator Co., 1803 Arcade Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

BABY

The Quick and Sure Cure for 'ALARMA, CHILLS, FEVER, AND LA GRIPPE' is a Powerful Tonic and Appetizer. Will cure that most distressing ailment, the baby's cold. Postum's Baby Food is the best food for babies. Postum's Baby Food is the best food for babies.

Men—We Teach You Barber Trade. Paying position guaranteed. Income while learning. 4 weeks course. Own shop. (Write only) Jacksonville Barber College, Jacksonville, Fla. Mel. Attending Barber. Advancements: works on all machines. 30 Personal Barber with 1000. Adv. 127. Birmingham, Ala.

Help Save Birds. Friends of the migratory birds believe that the first important step for the perpetuation of the birds has been made, but that another one equally vital remains to be taken, says the American Forestry Magazine. This consists in the conservation and perpetuation of a sufficient number of small inland lakes, as well as island and coastal swamps and marsh areas, to provide the birds place for feeding and resting and tending their young.

Marital Frictions. Hubby—'You ain't help if. I'm doing my best to get ahead.' Wife—'Well, heaven knows you need me.'

MURINE

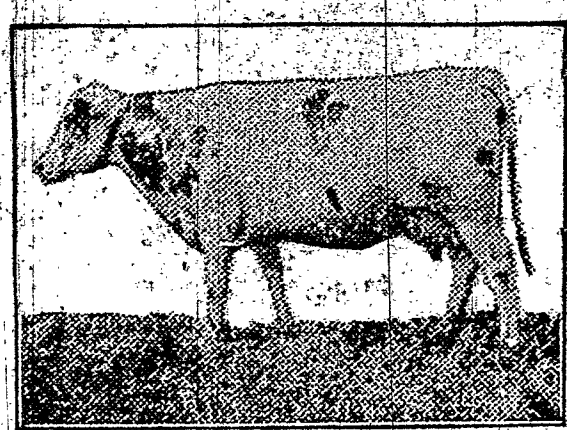

Where Bacteria Get In. Bacteria get into the milk from utensils, from the body of the cow, the body of the mother and the atmosphere or air.

Jackie Gets of Milk. It takes to get out of milk in a strain. A few drops of Murine in the milk will keep it sweet and pure.

DAIRY POINTS

HOME SUPPLIES FROM FARM
Measured in Money Value Dairy Products Constitute Most Important Group of Foods.

Dairy products constitute the most important group of foods measured in money value, consumed by the average farm family. Milk cows are kept on practically all farms. The average farm family uses annually about 2,600 quarts of milk in the form of milk, butter, cheese or cream.

It Pays to Treat the Cow and Her Offspring Well.

factories, practically all the butter and cheese used is bought instead of made on the farm, says the United States department of agriculture. Very few farmers buy whole milk. About four-fifths of the dairy products consumed by farmers are produced on the home farm.

In the South dairy products are used very freely. The common practice is to churn the whole milk for butter, producing a large quantity of buttermilk. The average annual consumption of butter per family is about 230 pounds in the South while for families in the North and West it is less than 150 pounds. It is not unusual for the average-sized family in the South to consume 2,000 quarts of buttermilk a year. Buttermilk is a cooling and healthful drink for that climate.

DRUGS INJURE DAIRY CATTLE

Iowa State College Experiments Show Decrease Rather Than Increase in Fat Production.

The use of drugs with the idea of increasing the fat production of test cows has been tried out by Iowa State College dairy section. In most cases it was found that drugs decreased rather than increased the fat production.

Such drugs as alcohol, castor oil, pituitrin, aloes, magnesium sulphate, nux vomica and sodium chloride were tried and in all cases they were detrimental to the cows. All cows used were in good normal condition at the start of the tests and various sizes of doses were used.

In some cases it was found that the flow of milk and butterfat was increased slightly but this soon fell off and in the end a decrease was noticed.

Up to date no drug has been found that will increase and it is strongly advised by the dairy men not to resort to this method as it injures the cows and is not a fair way to gain a record.

WHEN MILK TEST IS HIGHEST

Faculty of Milking Off Fat Is Used in Pushing Cows for Short Time Records.

In pushing cows for short-time records, this faculty of milking off the fat is used; that is, the cow is allowed to freshen in very fat condition and will test very high when her record is being made two or four weeks after freshening. There have been cases where cows have tested from two to three per cent higher during this period than the normal test for her discloses and this test would be much higher than during the last part of her lactation.

MILK-CREAM WEIGHTS

Skim milk weighs 8.63 pounds a gallon. The foregoing figures were based on milk with a fat content of 2 1/2 per cent at 63 degrees temperature. Similar milk testing 3 per cent weighs 8.6 pounds. Mixed milk and cream of 10 per cent butterfat content weighs 8.63 pounds. The general rule is to estimate milk testing from 3 to 5 per cent as weighing 8.6 pounds a gallon.

RAISE PRODUCTION OF HERD

Permanent Advancement Can Only Be Made by Use of Purebred Bull of Good Ancestry.

The only way for everyone to have cows capable of producing a large flow of milk is by better breeding. By better breeding is meant the using of a purebred dairy bull which is a good individual from good producing ancestor. It is only through the use of a good bull that any permanent advancement can be made in the production of the future herd.

Where Bacteria Get In. Bacteria get into the milk from utensils, from the body of the cow, the body of the mother and the atmosphere or air.

Jackie Gets of Milk. It takes to get out of milk in a strain. A few drops of Murine in the milk will keep it sweet and pure.

CALOMEL LOSING OUT IN SOUTH

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Responsible for Change for the Better.

Every drugstore in town has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place. "Calomel is dangerous and people know it," Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every drugstore who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much, but if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, just ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day—Advt.

99 OUT OF 100

Need Vacher-Balm at Times.

Nothing better for summer colds, hurts or itching. Keep it handy. Agents wanted where we have none. E. W. Vacher, Inc., New Orleans, La.—Adv.

Or! Hubby—That man called me a liar, a cad, a scoundrel and a dog! Would you advise me to fight? Wife—By all means! There's nothing nobler in the world than fighting for the truth!

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

Insanity must be a sensation like the distorted dream that is familiar enough to the sane.

JUST GAVE UP SUFFERED SO

Weakness, Pains and Other Troubles Had Discouraged This Arkansas Lady.—She Took Cardui, Found It Helpful, Got Well!

Harrisburg, Ark.—After serious symptoms had become apparent, Mrs. Belle Wilkerson, of Route 1, this place, says she "got worse and worse."

"I wasn't able to stand on my feet and had to go to bed," she explains. The . . . grew worse, and for about three weeks nothing seemed to do me any good. I grew so weak and nervous and could not sleep. I began to have pain in the lower part of my body, and all across my back. There was a great deal of soreness and pain in my left side . . . I just gave up, for I suffered so. I grew discouraged and thought I was not going to get well.

"My head not only ached, but would feel so light and dizzy . . . I decided then I would take Cardui, as I read of how many women it had benefited, and some whose case was like mine. When I began Cardui, just after a few doses, I noticed a change. I slept better at night . . . and felt like I could eat something. I got up and began to do the work in the house and yard, and after three or four bottles of Cardui I was well.

"If you suffer from disorders peculiar to women," take Cardui, the Women's Friend. It should help you, like others.

—Adv.

Solid Guilt. "Guess I'll buy a few shares of that mining stock. Looks like a gilt-edged proposition to me."

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

"You've only seen the edges!"

FARM POULTRY

SUCCESS IN RAISING SQUABS

Healthy, Vigorous, Properly Mated Birds Are Essential—Keep Rats and Mice Away.

Begin with healthy, vigorous, properly mated breeders. Good quality foundation stock is very essential to success.

Select and keep only prolific breeders, which are also good feeders. Feed a variety of good-quality hard grains, including peas or peanuts. Use small whole corn rather than cracked corn.

Provide for the pigeons a pen which is dry, well ventilated, and can be kept free from rats and mice. Two nests should be allowed for each pair of breeders.

Keep clean, fresh, protected drinking water before the pigeons and provide a separate unprotected pan of water for bathing.

Mount the squabs just as soon as they are feathered under the wings and about the time they are able to get out of their nests, say poultry specialists in the United States department of agriculture.

GEESSE UTILIZE WASTE GRAIN

Grazing Stock Take Up Most of Their Feed From Ordinary Grasses of the Pastures.

Geese touch flanks with chickens in utilizing waste grain about the stables and feeding pens. In a larger measure than chickens or any other kind of poultry, they are grazing stock, taking their living in large part from the ordinary grasses of the pastures. When the facts are taken into consideration that the demand for geese is strong, steady, and extended over practically the whole year, not confined to certain holiday seasons, as the demand for turkeys largely is, and that their value as egg producers is considerable, the importance of a few geese on a general farm becomes apparent.

Geese, in common with ducks, are utilizers of forms of food confined to ponds and streams, but they are in that particular excelled by ducks. On farms where ponds or streams are available ducks will convert into meat and eggs great quantities of water insects and various aquatic forms that would not be utilized by any other kind of poultry.

Ducks, while they consume much grass and other green stuff, are more partial to animal feeds and are very energetic in patrolling the branches, creeks and ponds as sources of food supply, say poultry specialists in the United States department of agriculture. Where conditions are favorable they will provide for their own food needs in a measure that will make them highly profitable.

Playing the Market. "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How's the brokerage game?" "Business has picked up wonderfully since we installed a juke box for our lady customers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Kill That Cold With

CASCARA QUININE FOR Colds, Coughs, La Grippe AND

Neglected Colds are Dangerous. Take no chances. Keep this standard remedy handy for the first attack. Breaks up a cold in 24 hours—Relieves Croup in 3 days—Excellent for Headache. Quinine in this form does not affect the head—Cascara is best Tonic Laxative—No Opium in Hill's.

ALL DRUGGISTS SELL IT

What Worried Him. "Jimmy, you don't seem to like my family at all," pouted the young wife. "Give me time, my dear," pleaded her husband. "I'm doing my best to be reasonable."

"But what's wrong with my family?" demanded the lady lately. "Nothing whatever. But I'm a sensitive man, I am, and the look of hopeless resignation your people wear whenever they see me is getting on my nerves."

Blessings on his head that said, "Face about."

Rather a dumb waiter than a stupid one.

Thickening the plot may thin the audience.

Feelin' Mean?

Headache? Nausea? Dizziness? Biliousness? Constipation? Lazy and good for nothing most of the time? What you need is a shaking-up of your "innards" and a gingering-up all over. The thing that'll fix you up is:

Dr. THACHER'S LIVER AND BLOOD SYRUP

An old doctor's prescription; in use for 68 years. Enlivens your Liver, purifies and enriches your Blood. Regulates your Bowels and is a fine family TONIC. Get a bottle from your drug store and you'll soon be Feelin' Fine!

THAT SMALL BROTHER AGAIN WILLING TO PAY THE PRICE

This Time It Really Seems That He Has Cooked Sister Evelina's Goose for Good.

Small Boy Satisfied That the Bill for His Three Days' Fun Was Not Exorbitant.

Some things do fall out awkwardly. One evening the fair Evelina was expecting her latest admirer to call and her mother hadn't come back from shopping. So, while Evelina slipped upstairs to don her best blouse and some powder on her nose, the young sister was left on guard.

The expected visitor arrived, and was ushered into the parlor by William Edward, who promptly began to ask questions, as small boys always do. "Mr. Slowcombe," he said, "what's a popinjay?"

"A popinjay, my boy," repeated the young man, thinking hard. "Why—it's a rare bird."

"Are you a bird, Mr. Slowcombe?" "Of course not! Ha, ha!" squirmed the victim.

"Well, that's funny!" mused William Edward. "Last night, after you'd gone, my said you were a jay, and father said there was no doubt about that, but there didn't seem much popin' the question about you. And now you say you're not a bird at all!"

No Doubt of it. "What is a portable house, pa?" "Any house carried away by a cyclone."—Houston Post.

Her Retort. "You wear no stockings when you swim?" "No. And I don't wear overshoes when I dance."

Her Retort. "You wear no stockings when you swim?" "No. And I don't wear overshoes when I dance."

Her Retort. "You wear no stockings when you swim?" "No. And I don't wear overshoes when I dance."

Her Retort. "You wear no stockings when you swim?" "No. And I don't wear overshoes when I dance."

Her Retort. "You wear no stockings when you swim?" "No. And I don't wear overshoes when I dance."

Her Retort. "You wear no stockings when you swim?" "No. And I don't wear overshoes when I dance."

Her Retort. "You wear no stockings when you swim?" "No. And I don't wear overshoes when I dance."

Her Retort. "You wear no stockings when you swim?" "No. And I don't wear overshoes when I dance."

Her Retort. "You wear no stockings when you swim?" "No. And I don't wear overshoes when I dance."

Her Retort. "You wear no stockings when you swim?" "No. And I don't wear overshoes when I dance."

Her Retort. "You wear no stockings when you swim?" "No. And I don't wear overshoes when I dance."

Sea Coast Echo. CITY ECHOES.

Miss Cleo Benedic, of New Orleans, is the attractive and accomplished guest of Mrs. H. L. Lewis at the Lelux home.

Miss Yvonne Gelpi of New Orleans is the week-end guest of Miss Aline Ranson at the Harrison home on the beach front.

Mr. Eugene Davis, valued assistant and popular attaché of the local postal department, has returned from a stay with relatives at Alexandria, La.

Miss Rosalie Spori, of New Orleans, is the attractive young guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Smith in East on avenue.

We sell, develop, print and enlarge. Kodak finishing is our business, and not a side line. THE BAY STUDIO, next door to head of Main street, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Rev. Father Nellus Downing, of Biloxi, spent Wednesday afternoon mingling with Bay St. Louis friends, and was accorded the usual cordial welcome which always awaits him.

Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Lewis have returned from a month's trip to New York City and other points, making the trip by motor route and partly by rail. They had most interesting trip and an enjoyable stay. Their return home is warmly welcomed.

Messrs. A. L. Stokoe, O. A. Borden and E. Van Whitfield have returned from their tour of inspection for the Bandier Oil Company in Wharton county, Texas, and report the possibilities of oil in that section as very encouraging. They visited Houston while on the trip and had an interesting time.

The presidential election returns by Western Union special service will be received Tuesday night at Breath's service garage on the beach front, and the public is invited to hear the returns first-hand. The Echo has been authorized to extend the public this invitation.

FOR SALE: A complete traveling picture show. It will pay you to investigate this if you want a good business in the live towns of Mississippi. Parties without $1200 or $1500 please do not take my time. Strictly legitimate proposition. Act quickly. Address to The Sea Coast Echo, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the Killen-Spori wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Spori, Mr. and Mrs. L. Spori and son, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Schmitt and daughter, Edith, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Killen and daughter, Rosemary, and son Thomas, Jr., Miss Cleo Benedic and Dolores Hava, Mr. C. A. Latham, all of New Orleans.

Mr. R. J. Williams came over from Poplarville during the week, called by business before chancery court. Mr. Williams has just returned from a most extensive pleasure trip to California, and extending as far up the Pacific Coast as Oregon. He says this was the first real vacation he ever had in his busy life. Apparently, the trip did him much good.

Mr. Leo W. Seal, the urbane and popular cashier of the Hancock County Bank, returned home during the week from Washington, D. C., where he attended the American Bankers' Association convention, taking active part in the deliberations. From Washington Mr. Seal journeyed to New York City, where he remained a few days, spending a while in the financial district and getting in closer touch with the larger banks. With friends Mr. Seal visited Princeton and witnessed a football game, Princeton versus U. S. Navy. He reports a most pleasant and profitable trip.

Tomorrow—Sunday—afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock the Winner prizes will be thrown open to the acquaintances and friends in general of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Wisner, and you are invited by these means to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wisner. Mr. Wisner, who has the best garden in this section, will demonstrate that a fall garden can be grown on the Gulf Coast to better advantage than during the spring, as strange as it may appear. Beginning at 6 o'clock on the beach front of the Wisner home there will be free educational moving pictures and community singing. The school boys and girls are especially invited during the afternoon and evening hours to participate in the reception and all Halloween celebration.

Mrs. W. J. Harrison and niece, Miss Alice Ranson, entertained handsomely at a "miscellaneous shower" Saturday afternoon in compliment to Miss Laura Spori, who became the bride of Mr. J. L. Killen during the present week. The affair was an event in social circles and quite a gathering assembled to "shower" the fair young honoree, who received numerous miscellaneous gifts, that can only be described and best appreciated by the feminine fancy and taste. The presentation was made in novel and fitting manner. Little Miss Adelaide Long, Mrs. Harrison's niece, was Cupid and donned the role for the occasion. The color scheme of decoration was pink and green and was carried out with marked effect through the house and out to the dining hall where the dogs and other refreshments carried the color.

Bad news! The Bay St. Louis ferry, after successfully operating since Monday morning, discontinued its services after its last scheduled trip Thursday night. Capt. Drake stated to The Echo yesterday morning that while his boat drew only 2 1/2 feet of water, the pier on the Harrison county side was too short and did not reach out to sufficient depth of water, and as a result the ferry was aground Wednesday a full half day. Unless the Board of Supervisors of Harrison county comes to immediate action, the service will remain inactive. With charges made for initiative and maintenance, Mr. W. Webb at once put the ferry out of view again, and the service will be a complete loss.

Bad news! The Bay St. Louis ferry, after successfully operating since Monday morning, discontinued its services after its last scheduled trip Thursday night. Capt. Drake stated to The Echo yesterday morning that while his boat drew only 2 1/2 feet of water, the pier on the Harrison county side was too short and did not reach out to sufficient depth of water, and as a result the ferry was aground Wednesday a full half day. Unless the Board of Supervisors of Harrison county comes to immediate action, the service will remain inactive. With charges made for initiative and maintenance, Mr. W. Webb at once put the ferry out of view again, and the service will be a complete loss.

NEWS NOTES FROM ST. STANISLAUS COL- LEGE FOR THE WEEK.

Gulf Coast Military Cancels Football Game Scheduled for November 20—Is It a Case of White Feather or "Yellow?"

S. S. C. DEFEATED NAVAL STATION LAST SATURDAY.

Standing of the Senior and Junior Basketball Teams—Practice Games are Proving Interesting—Personal and Other Notes.

(Reported for The Echo.)

A change in the football schedule is necessary as Gulf Coast has cancelled its game. A battle royal, expected as the Gulf Coast team has shown better form this year than ever before. At least their scores have been bigger. True, they have played no real team yet. Persimmon, Pascagoula, High and Manual Training are not exactly in the same class. The real test was to come when they would meet our team. Last year we beat them 35-9. They fear to make a third test. They saw us beat the Navy in Gulfport last Saturday and that, vanquished, any hopes they had of the most wonderful next day with the most wonderful of the game is cancelled but rather that we ever succeeded in getting them to schedule at first.

Moral:—Prudence is the better part of valor.

ST. STANISLAUS DEFEATS GULFPORT NAVAL STATION.

St. Stanislaus College defeated the Gulfport Naval Station's team at Gulfport last Saturday, October 23rd by a score of 12-0. The game was preceded by a downpour of rain, which caused the field to become a mass of mud. As the rain started our boys sought cover under the side lines and thus evaded the best part of the rain. The "Gob's" team, which averages one hundred and eighty pounds, is one of the heaviest combinations ever seen in these parts.

In the first quarter the ball went from end to end, but neither team succeeded in reaching their opponent's goal. The tide changed in the second quarter when Phillips, while fifteen yards from the seamen's goal, directed a pass to Glover who caught it behind the Navy's goal, making the first score of the game. The whistle ending the first half blew as Glover touched the ground with the ball. Score 6-0.

In the third quarter Maestri, our first end made a thirty-yard end run for a touchdown, making the score 12-0.

The last quarter, although not without its thrills, left the score unchanged. Our line-up was as follows: Chauffe, F. B.; Manning, L. H.; Glover, R. H.; Phillips, Q. B.; Schiro, Scaife and Maestri, R. E.; Escalona, L. E.; Welsh, R. T.; Jaubert, L. T.; Reed, J. G.; Meldrum, R. G.; Dwyer, C.

Referee: R. Bridges, Navy; Head Linesmen, Ed. Watts, Y. M. G. C. Timer: Cerniglia, S. S. C.

The Varsity and Reserve foot ball teams attended the fair at Edwardsville last Sunday, October 24th, and from all accounts seemed to have had a good time.

BASKET BALL LEAGUES.

The basket ball leagues are well under way and the games are proving very interesting and are hotly contested.

The standing of the different teams in both leagues are as follows:

Senior League
Won	Lost	Team	Per Ct.
3	0	Manning	1000
3	0	Jaubert	1000
2	1	Cerniglia	666
2	1	Landry	666
1	2	Meldrum	333
1	2	Authement	333
0	3	Chauffe	000
0	3	Phillips	000

Junior League
Won	Lost	Team	Per Ct.
3	0	Oemichen	1000
2	1	Began	666
2	1	Vial	666
1	2	Lewis	333
1	2	Handley	333
0	3	Gex	000

PRUNES.

Steve Brodie had better be careful when he fires near the end of a springboard.

Time: 1925, Scene: Some battlefield—Gulf Coast cadets about to charge the enemy. Voice from the side lines: "Here come the boys."

Heard in Gulfport last Saturday: "If the Navy can't do it, the Army can. Wonder who said it? Wonder who was meant?"

PERSONAL.

The visitors to the college were: Mr. G. Boehm, Miss E. Baudean, Mrs. J. Delbasty, Mrs. B. Laporte, Mr. J. H. Meridier, from New Orleans, La.; Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Monte, Tar, La.; Mr. R. E. de los Reyes, of New Orleans; Mrs. W. S. Torian, Adeline, La.; Mr. J. Uddo, New Orleans; Mr. Frank Wittman, Pass Christian, Miss.; Mrs. M. L. Zay, New Orleans; Mr. S. LaNasa, New Orleans; Mr. Robert E. Le Blanc, Pascagoula, La.; Mr. T. Labell, Meridian, Miss.; Mrs. R. E. Goodé, Lafayette, La.

CLASS '21.

DOLEAC-CHAUVEY.

The Gulfport Herald of recent issue contains the following report of the Doleac-Chauvey wedding, the bride a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chauvey, former residents of Bay St. Louis for quite a number of years, and well and popularly known here.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at St. John's Catholic Church by Rev. Father Spengler, the contracting parties being Louis Doleac, Jr., and Miss Marie Ida Chauvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chauvey. Owing to the absence of the bride's father, the bride was given away by her brother-in-law, James Laidier. The double ring ceremony was performed with Roderick Marshall acting for Mr. Doleac and Miss Bertha Doleac for Miss Chauvey. The bride was attired in a lovely large colored crepe meteor gown, with accessories to match, and carried a bride's bouquet of roses. Miss Doleac wore a gown of turquoise brocade crepe de chine and corsage bouquet of American roses. The happy couple left on an evening train for New Orleans, where they will board a steamer for Ostrea to visit the father and mother of the bride. They are visiting different places of interest in Louisiana they will be at home to their many friends at 1206 Thirty Second avenue.

To carry out contemplated improvements, Pedro Boudin, the well-known local contractor and builder, has started work with a force of men on his own store building and premises in Third street. The plans call for an enlargement of the store building in order to accommodate an increasing business, and a second story will be added in the rear to the living apartments. The proposed improvements are considerable and will add to the value of the community. Mr. and Mrs. Boudin are to be commended for their enterprise.

Milk Economy

Milk economy means unfailing supply of pure, fresh milk. It means convenience and using every bit of milk you buy—no waste for any reason.

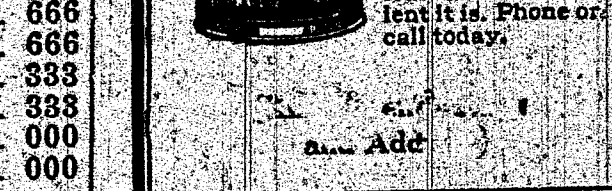

Spill backwards

KLIM
POWDERED MILK

is the ideal milk. It fills the essentials for milk economy and milk quality.

Klim is milk reduced to powder form. Nothing is changed—nothing removed but the water. When you want liquid milk for drinking—for cooking—for cereals or desserts—you replace the water.

Klim comes in two forms—Whole Milk and Skimmed Milk. Get a trial supply and see for yourself how economical and convenient it is. Phone or call today.

THE PLEASURE IS OURS AS WELL AS YOURS WHEN OUR GOOD GROCERIES CROSS THE THRESHOLD OF YOUR DOORS. WE DELIVER RIGHT NOW.

Phone 238.

ARCENEUX'S CASH GROCERY.

On the Beach.

A TRIAL ORDER WILL CONVINCE YOU.

Get a Victrola NOW

FOR THOSE EVENINGS BY THE FIRESIDE AT HOME.

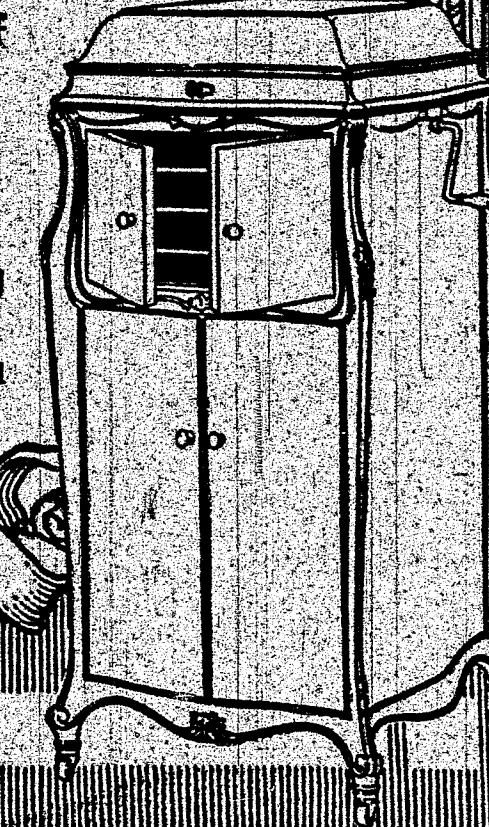

It will furnish you the world's best music in soft and soothing tones.

AND SUCH VARIETY!

You'll not put it off another day!

Northrop's,

GULFPORT. PHONE 61

FOR LUMBER

SEE

KERGOSIEN & JOYNER.

OUR MOTTO—Best Lumber and Prompt Deliveries.

WE MAKE LOCAL DELIVERIES.

Two Phones—Nos. 2 and 14. Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Full supply Typewriter Ribbons—The Echo.

Put Your Money in OUR BANK where it is SAFE from Fire, Burglars and Extravagance.

"TODAY" if you are earning money, it is because you are working for it "TODAY." If you begin banking a spare part of that money, it will "SOME DAY" be working for you. When you are old, it will buy the comforts which are so enjoyable and then you will bless the day you started a bank account.

THE MERCHANTS BANK,
Bay St. Louis, Miss.

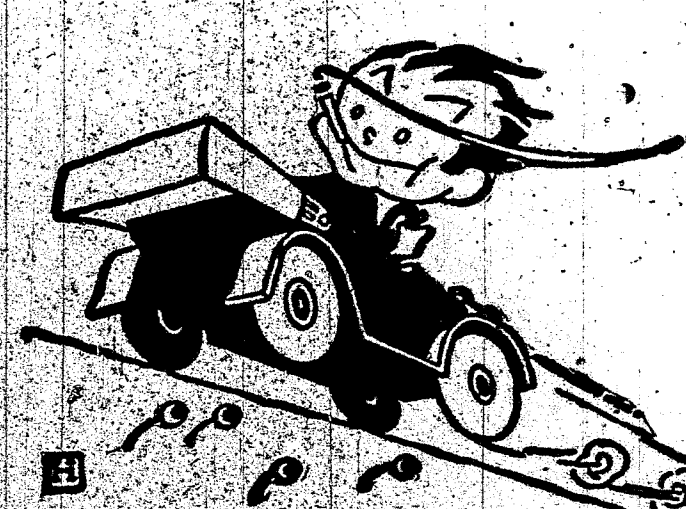

Each day save a penny. Said Piggy to Henry.

These clubs of ours for girls and boys make saving dimes one of life's joys. See! Even the men and women, too. Are richer now by saving through THE MERCHANTS BANK of Bay St. Louis.

Sure enough, the old bus went back on me

IT WAS a whale. OF A hill, and the old bus GROANED and shuddered. AND FINALLY stalled. AND YOU could fry eggs ON THE radiator. WELL, WHAT I know. ABOUT BUZZ wagons. COULD BE written big ON A postage stamp. BUT I fiddled around, AND TORE my new shirt. AND GOT all smeared up. THE ENGINE would start, BUT LIZZIE wouldn't. NOT ON that hill. SO I quit and lit up. ONE OF my cigarettes. AND THOUGHT it over. THEN I had a hunch. PUSHED HER around. PULLED A thing-a-ma-jig. AND THE blame boat. BACKED UP the hill. WITHOUT EVEN hesitating. SO I learned a trick. WHICH EVERY driver. SHOULD REMEMBER. WHEN IN doubt, light up A "SATISFY" cigarette. FOR WITH one of those. GEARED TO your teeth. YOU CAN start anything!

IT didn't take much persuasion to get Chesterfields going—they're self-starters. That blend of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos makes friends by the millions. Another thing—you don't find a Chesterfield smoker "shifting" brands—he's in "high" all the time.

In packages of 20 protected by special moisture-proof wrapper. Also in round AIR-TIGHT tins of 50.

Chesterfield

CIGARETTES

Liggett & McCarty, Inc.

"SAY IT WITH FLOWERS."

Chrysanthemums, Carnations.

B. ADAMS & SONS.

Bay St. Louis, Miss.